He hath not despised nor abborred afflictions of the afflicted. Pen. 22:24

Afflictions, though they seem severa, In mercy oft are sent; They stopped the predignt's career, And forced him to repeat,

Despise not the chastening of the Lord neither be weary of his correction; for whom the Lord loveth he correctath, ever as a father the son on whom he delighteth Prov. 8:11, 12.

Italy seems more or less willing be compromised.

It looks like the intention of the president is to commit the United States to entangling foreign alliances for some time to come.

Although American export bus ness to small in proportion to our total demestic production, a constant and dependable outlet for surplus products is a controlling factor in our industria; and commercial prosperity. For that reason maintenance of present and development of new foreign markets is no less important than continued expansion of home production. As the individual measures his increased wealth by the excess of production over consumption, and his net income by the excess of production over purchases, so must the nation measure its wealth and its fill. Some folks idea o' bein' pleasure nancial status in the world of trade.

The officers and men as soon as we put to sea turn to their gunnery and tactical work for more eagerly than they go to functions. Every morning certain ships leave the column and move off seven or eight thousand yards as targets for range measuring fire control and battery practice for the others, and at night certain ships do the same thing for night battery practice. I am sorry to say that this practice is unsatisfactory, and in some points misleading, owing to the fact that the ships are painted white. At Portland, in 1903, I saw Admiral Barker's white battleship under the searchlights of the army at a distance of 14,000 yards, seven sea miles, without glasses, while the Hartford, a black ship, was never discovered at all, though she passed within a mile and a half.
